Dr. Daniel J. Mehan
Assistant Administrator for Information Services and Chief Information Officer

APPOINTED: February 1, 1999

TYPE OF APPOINTMENT: FAA Executive System

BIOGRAPHICAL SUMMARY

1995-1998 –International Vice President-Quality and Process Management, AT&T
1992-1995 –International Chief Information Officer (CIO) and Commercial Market Services Vice President, AT&T
1987-1992 –Product and Market Management Vice President for General Business Systems, AT&T
1984-1987 –Material Management and Customer Service Director, AT&T
1979-1984 –Division Manager Strategic Planning and Product Technical Support, AT&T

EDUCATION, PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIPS, AND LICENSES

1974 – University of Pennsylvania, Ph.D., Operations Research
1968 – University of Pennsylvania, M.S., Systems Engineering
1967 – Drexel University, B.S., Electrical Engineering
1992 – Columbia University Graduate School of Business, Managing for Global Success
1988 – Faculty from Harvard and Stanford Universities, Advanced Management Program
Member, Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE)
Member, American Association for the Advancement of Science (AAAS)

RECOGNITION AND AWARDS

Board of Director Memberships:
      1996-1998 – Japan-U.S. Telecommunications Research Institute (JUSTRI)
      1996-1998 – U.S. Telecommunications Training Institute (USTTI)
      1991-1992 – North American Telecommunications Association (NATA)
Member, TAU BETA PI, ETA KAPPA NU, PHI KAPPA PHI